

Veteran Budapest game developers join Leslie Benzies to create Everywhere, an all-new video game experience

Edinburgh, Scotland - under embargo: 5pm GMT Feb 8th, 2017.

Former Crytek Hungary studio head, Kristoffer Waardahl, and a group of veteran developers are joining Leslie Benzies' startup to create 'Everywhere'. The team draws from a wealth of experience developing AAA titles as well as mobile and VR gaming. The new studio is opening in Budapest, Hungary.

"We are very excited to be working alongside such talented individuals who bring with them a wealth of experience as we build Everywhere." says Benzies.

Waardahl comments "We are thrilled to join Leslie in this endeavor to build a new entertainment experience. Working together on this project is a fantastic opportunity to push the boundaries of gaming and is a proud moment for the Hungarian game developer community."

The Everywhere team are hiring for a wide range of positions in Budapest, Edinburgh, and Los Angeles.
